Science knows no borders. International research teams work together on groundbreaking projects to pave the way for innovation. To deepen and strengthen this scientific potential, collaborations between the countries need to be fostered. Thus, the Polish-Swiss Research Programme was born, as one of the first 5-year collaboration projects between Switzerland and Eastern Europe. A total of 48 institutes, including the Paul Scherrer Institute, participated in the program 2011 - 2016.

INNOVATION SUMMIT is dedicated to the results of this Polish-Swiss adventure with science.

Now PARK INNOVAARE invites you to learn more about the program itself and the research projects implemented, and to contemplate the beauty of science captured in photographs taken by Marcin Zieba and exhibited at the deliveryLAB, as you walk through the research labs where many groundbreaking discoveries were made.
